

PRESS COVERAGE

COMSTECH-IFS Program Funding Session 2022

December 17, 2022

Pakistan OBSERVER

Eyes & Ears of Pakistan

Widely read and trusted Daily

COMSTECH funds Rs50m science projects in OIC States

STAFF REPORTER

OIC ministerial standing committee on scientific and technological cooperation (COMSTECH), Islamabad, and International Foundation for Science (IFS), Stockholm, Sweden have selected 18 research projects from 12 OIC member states for the session 2022.

According to COMSTECH, the projects have been selected from Bangladesh, Benin, Burkina

Faso, Cameroon, Mali, Morocco, Niger, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, Tunisia, and Uganda for the session 2022. Total funding of US$ 221,762 has been granted to projects in the fields of Food Sciences, Biological Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Natural Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences. The project funding granted in this session ranges from US$

10,000 to 15,000 for each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries that are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use, and conservation of biological resources.

COMSTECH Funds Rs50mln For Science Research Projects

This session's science research projects funding ranges from $10,000 to $15,000 per project. Two Pakistani scientists have received research grants totaling Rs. 6.06 million.

For the session 2022, the OIC ministerial standing committee on scientific and technological cooperation (COMSTECH), Islamabad, and the International Foundation for Science (IFS), Stockholm, Sweden, have chosen 18 Science research projects from 12 OIC member countries: Bangladesh, Benin, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Mali, Morocco, Niger, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, Tunisia, and Uganda. Projects in the fields of Food Sciences, Biological Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Natural Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences have received a total of $221,762 in funding.

This session's science research projects funding ranges from $10,000 to $15,000 per project. Two Pakistani scientists have received research grants totaling Rs. 6.06 million. Read More

COMSTECH funds rupees 50 mln science projects in OIC states

ISLAMABAD: OIC ministerial standing committee on scientific and technological cooperation (COMSTECH), Islamabad and International Foundation for Science (IFS), Stockholm, Sweden have selected 18 research projects from 12 OIC member states - Bangladesh, Benin, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Mali, Morocco, Niger, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, Tunisia, and Uganda for the session 2022. A total funding of US$ 221,762 has been granted to projects in the fields of Food Sciences, Biological Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Natural Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences. Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Daily

The Spokesman

RAWALPINDI

Jamadi-ul-Awwal 22, Saturday, December 17, 2022

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

IRACHI

A sister publication of CENTRELINE & DPA News Agency

www.islamabadpost.com.pk

ISLAMABAD EDITION

Islamabad POST

Saturday, December 17, 2022

Pakistan's Credible Daily Newspaper

Price Rs. 25

COMSTECH funds Rupees 50 Million science projects

DNA

ISLAMABAD: OIC ministerial standing committee on scientific and technological cooperation (COMSTECH), Islamabad and International Foundation for Science (IFS), Stockholm, Sweden have selected 18 research projects from 12 OIC member states - Bangladesh, Benin, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Mali, Morocco, Niger, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, Tunisia, and Uganda for the session 2022.

A total funding of US$ 221,762 has been granted to projects in the fields of Food Sciences, Biological Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Natural Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences. The project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

ical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

million for their research projects. COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

www.thefinancialdaily.com

The Financial Daily

Simultaneously Published from Karachi and Lahore

International

Comstech funds Rs50 million in 18 science projects in OIC states

ISLAMABAD: OIC ministerial standing committee on scientific and technological cooperation (COMSTECH), Islamabad and International Foundation for Science (IFS), Stockholm, Sweden have selected 18 research projects from 12 OIC member states - Bangladesh, Benin, Burkina Faso, Cameroon, Mali, Morocco, Niger, Nigeria, Pakistan, Togo, and Uganda for the session 2022, says a Press release.

A total funding of US$ 221,762 has been granted to projects in the fields of Food Sciences, Biological Sciences, Environmental Sciences, Agricultural Sciences, Natural Sciences, Biomedical Sciences, Physical Sciences, Genetic Engineering, and Health Sciences.

Project funding granted in this session ranges from US$ 10,000 to 15,000 each project. Two Pakistani scientists have won grants worth Rs. 6.06 million for their research projects.

COMSTECH and IFS agreed in February 1998 to enter into a collaborative program to strengthen the capacity of developing countries which are members of OIC to conduct relevant and high-quality research in sciences related to the management, use and conservation of biological resources. The program is funded in equal parts by COMSTECH and IFS.

